

Connect with us:

Chapters »Special Area PlansFuture Land Use MapThoroughfare PlanRecent Updates2007 Plan

Character & Environment

Proposed changes have been made to this chapter. Text changes are noted in each section with a ~~striketrough~~ for deletions or an underline for new text.

Community Character

Apr 03, 20130 Comment

A community's character is shaped by both physical and intangible elements. It is the essence of a place and what one remembers long after leaving, and that which is described to others. The image of a community is not static – it can and will change over time. The City of Dublin's po

Continue Reading →

Character

Community CharacterEnvironmentObjectives and Strategies

Environment

Apr 03, 2013

0 Comment

Existing Conditions Dublin's topography varies greatly; from relatively flat, open plains in the west, to rolling terrain and exposed limestone outcroppings along the Scioto River basin. While some of Dublin's stream valleys, particularly along the River and in eastern portions of the

Continue Reading →

Objectives and Strategies (Character & Environment)

Mar 14, 2013

0 Comment

Community Character Environment

Continue Reading →

Recent Updates

Planning and Zoning Commission to Review
Proposed Community Plan Update

Trends

Parks, Recreation and Open Space

Municipal Offices and Other Public Buildings

Schools and Education

Community Plan Contact Us

Name *

e-mail *

Message *